September 2020

Greetings!

I hope our September newsletter finds you doing well.

Back to school looks much different this year, but we're happy all the kiddos are getting into the groove. My son, Charlie, started Kindergarten at Prince of Peace. He's having a blast being back with friends and learning so much. It is really interesting to see the different methods used today to teach our kids. Rachelle's kiddos started Pre-K and 2nd Grade virtually. They're really enjoying it, despite it looking so different. It's truly amazing how well kids can adapt. Max's fiancée, Briana is a band director and has been busy figuring out how to teach kids to play an instrument through Zoom. We are so thankful for all of the teachers out there doing their best to help our children grow despite the challenges that COVID presents.

As you probably know, our team LOVES football season so we're excited that football is starting up on Sept 10. If you haven't joined our NFL Pick 'em yet, be sure to do so. We promise you it will be a fun diversion from the news.

Thank you for being a part of the JVM Insurance Family. We appreciate YOU!

Sincerely,

Jeff Van Matre
